Roylance of the State University. His subject will be "The Origin of the War." The lecture will start at 7:45. The public is invited. Admission free.

Despit appearances there will be some winter in American Fork, and our advice is:

To drink in the sunshine while you may; And store it for a dismal, snowy day.

No town will become a good business center so long as its business men rely on a few merchants to make the effort to bring trade to town. Too often the men in a few lines of trade are about the only ones that reach out after custom. Other merchants wait until these men induce the people to come to town and content themselves with trade that naturally drifts to their place. You can pick a few of them out in American Fork.

Three Arrests For Intoxication

There were three arrests during the past eight days for intoxication. A young man from Alpine left $10 for his appearance and forfeited his bail rather than show up.

The other two cases were the boys found blind drunk near the Apollo Hall and referred to in our last issue. An unsuccessful effort was made to get them to tell where they got the "booze." The boys were given a fine of $5 each.

Horse Thieves Doing Business

Four Valuable Horses Mysteriously Disappear—Officers Unable To Secure Any Trace of Them.

Last Friday some one visited the ranch of Hans Christensen, located on the bench north of American Fork, and took one of his finest teams, consisting of a bay horse and brown mare, each being four years old the coming spring, and each weighing about 1400 lbs. They were branded H. C. on the thigh, and had been recently broke to work.

The same night James Spratley lost a brown riding pony, weight about 100 pounds, from his pasture. The presumption is that the same party stole all three animals, riding the Spratley horse and leading the Christensen team.

All the officers of surrounding counties have been notified, but so far no trace of the missing animals has been found.

Not long since, Marion Parker lost a valuable 3-year-old, 1200 pound horse, and no direct trace of it has been found. Suspicious, however, in this case point to a man who went to Canada about this time and sold a team of horses to a party in Idaho while on his way. In all four cases the animals were raised and grown up here, knowing no other range.

Christensen Horses Not Stolen

Just as we are going to press with this page Councilmen Christensen informs us his horses have been found.

After spending a week looking for them, going as far as Salt Lake and Layton, etc., to see that they were not shipped out of the country with horse shipments now being made, he was informed his lost animals were quietly feeding in the old creek bed, surrounded by high brush, a short distance from his field.
